Cohen Graduation Speaker

State Rep. Gerald Cohen

Some 460 Andover High seniors will be receiving their diplomas at Eugene V. Lovely Field next Wednesday night, weather cooperating.

Class Marshals Richard Maloof and Elise Pyun are scheduled to lead their classmates onto the field at 5 o'clock sharp.

In case of rain, Principal Philip Wormwood says the 120th commencement exercises will be rescheduled for the following night, the night after that, and so on. Postponement would be announced on Radio station WCCM.

Rehearsal for graduation will be held at 1 o'clock Monday at the high school, or Tuesday in case of rain.

State Rep. Gerald Cohen, whose son Gary is among the graduates will be the guest speaker. Senior essays will be presented by Class President Paige Whitley and Kirk Liponis, and American Field Service students Agnes Polz and Mark Cohen will present flags from their native Austria and South Africa.

Presentation of scholarships will be made by Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert, and the graduates will receive their diplomas from members of the Andover School Committee.

If the seniors appear more light-headed than usual, it will be due to new, foam-filled mortar boards. The caps were ordered because several students have been injured by cardboard ones the past couple of years, hit when exuberant graduates tossed them into the air at the end of the ceremony.

A list of graduates will appear in next week's TOWNSMAN.

Former Selectman's Firm To Expand To W. Andover

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

GCA Corp., of Bedford, whose president is former Selectman Milton Greenberg of Andover, will become corporate neighbors of Polaroid and Hewlett-Packard in the Andover Technological Park in West Andover.

While definitive plans for construction of new facilities in Andover are not complete, the Andover Industrial Development Commission was informed Wednesday night that the Bedford-based company had an option on 46 acres in the southwest quadrant of the industrial park.

Representatives of Arkwright/Boston Insurance Co., owners of the West Andover industrial acreage and R. M. Bradley Co., brokers, met with the Industrial Development commission Wednesday night to discuss the various permits and utility needs of GCA to smooth the way for final planning processes.

Warren Davidson, corporate relations officer for GCA said Wednesday that the firm was looking forward to becoming a corporate resident of Andover. At the moment it was difficult to give firm plans for the new building in Andover, since the final planning would not be done until after Wednesday night's meeting.

GCA officials were not expected to attend the IDC session Wednesday night.

It is anticipated that GCA will construct a 300,000 square foot building and there will be some manufacturing at the Andover location.

GCA will be the third occupant of industrial space in the West Andover area bordering Interstate Route 93 on the former Shattuck Farm property.

The town extended major utility lines to the area when Hewlett-Packard announced plans for construction of its first of several buildings in the area a few years ago. Polaroid began construction of its film production plant last Fall.

GCA Corp., is an international manufacturer of Industrial Production equipment, scientific and analytical equipment sold throughout the world.

It currently employs 1,500, more than

Vietnam Vets Honored

Vietnam veterans, in recognition of the presidentially proclaimed Vietnam Veterans week, were honored Monday in Andover's Memorial Day observance at Memorial Auditorium.

"This is the first opportunity," said veterans' service director John J. Lewis, "for the people of the United States to put aside their feelings of the war itself and pay tribute to the people called upon to fight it."

He said the Vietnam veterans fought with valor and bravery, "fully equal to that of veterans who fought in other wars."

"Upon their return home," Lewis said, "they never had a tickertape parade nor were they often considered heroes. It's no wonder today they are silent veterans, usually neither visible nor openly willing to discuss war."

Lewis' opening remarks at the annual Memorial Day observance were an attempt "to balance the scales," he said, for the nine million Vietnam veterans "who are due our respect and appreciation."

The main speaker was Capt. William M. Flanders, commander of the Coast Guard Cutter Hamilton, named after Alexander Hamilton, founder of the Coast Guard.

Flanders said there have been five cutters named Hamilton in this history of the Coast Guard, and he related the story of the sinking of the fourth off the coast of Iceland in January 29, 1942 by a German submarine.

"It is a short story" he said, "about the courage of the young men who go to the defense of their country, and, when the moment arrives, find the courage and show the bravery that has been the tradition of our military forces."

"You may translate this particular set of circumstances into a different time or place, perhaps a different service, but always, the same sort of young man — perhaps the same sort of young men or women — who left Andover to go to the aid of their country, but never came back."

The cutter was hit in the starboard side between the engine and fire rooms, he said. The ship was crippled and the crew set about securing her, now low in the water, and getting the wounded into life boats.

All hands were transferred to the U.S. Gwin, a Navy destroyer which came to assist. The Hamilton continued to sink and finally had to be sunk by gunfire the next day as it was being tossed toward Iceland. Twenty-seven men lost their lives because of the torpedo attack.

The present Hamilton is 387 feet long, has a crew of 170 and is a veteran of ser-

Parents Honor Gould

The Andover High School Choral Parents Association has chosen to recognize Keith H. Gould for his 20 years of service with the Andover High School choral program.

Elliot Winnick, president of the association, announced at the High School Awards Banquet held on Thursday, May 24 that the Choral Parents are presenting a trophy case to the high school in honor of Mr. Gould. The case, to be ready in the fall, will be placed in the foyer of the high school. Some of the special awards and trophies to be placed on display will be the silver and bronze medals earned this spring by the Madrigal and A Capella Choirs at the Liberty Bell Music Festival in Philadelphia, the National School Choral Award and the Andover Choral Parents Award.

Town House Topics

Study Group Members Sought

The Andover Community Services Committee is looking for Andover adults and teenagers who are interested in serving on its subcommittee studying what social and recreational opportunities are available to Andover's youth after school hours and on weekends. The subcommittee will meet periodically over the summer and make its report and recommendations to the town manager in September.

Those adults or teenagers who would like to volunteer for this subcommittee are asked to indicate this in a brief letter to the Community Services Committee, 36

Bartlett St., Andover, and to include any experiences, interests or special qualifications which might be especially helpful to the subcommittee's study.

Committee Positions Filled

Selectmen confirmed appointment of five Andover residents to four boards, committees or commissions Tuesday night.

Former Selectman Virginia Cole and John S. Sullivan were named to the school building committee. Cole is a regular member; Sullivan a member of the committee's resource bank.

Robert Pustell was returned to the conservation commission for another term beginning June 1, 1979 and running to June 30, 1982.

Dr. Douglas Dunbar was reappointed to a three year term on the board of health starting June 30, 1979.

Patricia Dye will be a member of the Library Board of Trustees through June 30, 1980, effective immediately.

Salary Issue Is Postponed

Selectman Lawrence Sullivan withdrew Tuesday night his motion to phase out selectmen's salaries by fiscal year 1983.

In withdrawing the motion, Sullivan said only that he would bring it up at a more appropriate time.

Personnel Approved

Selectmen confirmed three personnel appointments Tuesday night.

Ann Parolisi was named library monitor, Alida M. Corry was appointed crossing guard and Clayton Northey was made a salaried part-time driver for the Haven.

Temporary Street Closings Are Approved

Selectmen Tuesday night granted the Fourth of July Committee permission to block off streets around Central Park in order to hold the July Fourth Celebration.

They approved street closings for two block parties, one on Sunday, May 27, between Bradley Road and Clark Road on Hall Ave. from noon until 4 p.m. and the other on Saturday, June 2 on Wolcott Avenue from 3 to 8:30 p.m.

Flynn Resigns From DCS Committee

James Flynn has resigned from the community services committee selectmen were told Tuesday night.

According to a report from Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark, Flynn wanted to resign a year ago, but remained until new appointments could be made.

There are now two vacancies on the committee, the other created by the resignation of Phillip Salamone.

Chamber Dinner Wednesday

The Andover Chamber of Commerce's 17th annual dinner will take place Wednesday, June 6 at the Lanam Club beginning at 5:30 p.m. Governor Edward J. King will be the main speaker and will be followed by the presentation of the Community Service Award to an Andover resident who has dedicated time and effort toward the betterment of the community. There will also be a presentation by Jeffrey French, president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce to a Chamber member who has volunteered much of his time towards strengthening the Chamber through a variety of issues. A dedication to this effort should not go unrewarded.

The program will continue with Joseph A. Harrington, Ph.D. Dr. Harrington has been coordinator of professional services at several rehabilitation centers. He is president of the Andover Group specializing in Executive assessment and evaluation of major corporations. Dr. Harrington has lectured widely on a variety of topics.

Charlotte P. Martellini, chairman of the event, stated that approximately 200 people will be attending this event and it should prove to be one of the finest ever held.

Also on the program will be chairman of the Andover board of selectmen, Col. Edward M. Harris and Robert L. Clark, president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce.

For reservations call the Chamber of Commerce office.

Marketing Conference

On Thursday, June 7, Merrimack College's Division of Continuing Education will sponsor a special one-day conference aimed at helping the small businessman expand marketing opportunities to the international sector.

Entering International Markets will feature presentations by representatives of public and private agencies and of Merrimack Valley firms now doing business abroad. The topics include: Making the Decision to Export, Financing for Export, Strategies to Secure Overseas Markets, and Selecting Distributors — Comecon, Latin America and China.

Andover Featured Wednesday

The Andover area will be salted on the Channel 2 Auction Wednesday, June 6, between 1:30 and 3 p.m.

Articles donated by local merchants and individuals will be auctioned at that time.

Proposition Returns For Local Performance

The Proposition, a Boston favorite for ten years is now in New York City and will be returning for an exclusive Andover performance on Sunday, June 10, 2 p.m. at the George Washington Hall Auditorium, at Phillips Academy.

Directed by Allan Albert, the Proposition celebrated its twelfth anniversary on Feb. 1, 1979. This show, a long-time favorite on college campuses, is completely improvisational. Utilizing audience suggestions of politicians, actors, campus personalities, political issues and psychological problems, the actors and musicians will spontaneously create people, places, situations, music and lyrics, rock operas starring influential members of town government, roaring twenties musicals with Carter and Kissinger on the chorus line, quiz shows, and psychodramas — anything and everything the audience can possibly imagine and have the courage to suggest. This is one Proposition you shouldn't miss.

Tickets for the Proposition performance may be purchased at the Andover Department of Community Services office, 36 Bartlet Street, at posted locations throughout Andover, and at the door on the afternoon of June 10.

Bay Bank Merrimack Valley will sponsor the post performance wine and cheese reception which is free for series ticket holders. Others may attend for $1.50. The reception allows individuals to meet members of the performing troupe.

The Andover Cultural Series is sponsored by the Department of Community Services. Funds for the Proposition were provided in part by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities.

Merrimack River Walk Sunday

The third annual Merrimack River Walk south will be held Sunday June 3 at 1:30 p.m. This walk sponsored by the Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club will start at the Fish Brook Pumping Station. It will proceed past the Hewlett-Packard plant, through a small copse of woods, under the 193 overpass (lots of echoes) and on past the recreational area to perhaps as far as the Phillips boathouse. This will be the turnaround point with the conclusion of the walk over easy terrain and it contains excellent river scenes with the new spring wild flowers being featured. Appropriate clothes should be worn to protect one against the poison ivy and the bugs.

The starting point on the Deer Jump Reservation (with thanks to AVIS) is reached from I 93 by taking the River Road exit, going west (away from Lawrence) approximately ¼ mile and then turn right on Brundrett Ave. to the pumping station.

The leaders for this hike are Selectman Susan Poore, Doris Newton and Eleanor Kurschwitz. Call them for additional information.

Summer Camp At Preschool

The Ballardvale Preschool announces a summer camp for preschoolers during the month of August. Two sessions are available. Session I will begin on July 30 and end on Aug. 11. Session II will begin Aug. 13 and end Aug. 24. Sessions run from 9 a.m. to 12 noon daily.

The program is open to all Andover children regardless of race, creed, or national origin. The child must be four by Sept. 1, 1979, five by Sept. 1, 1979, or six by Sept. 1, 1979. Enrollment is limited to 24 children with eight children in each age category. No previous registrations will be taken and all will be based on a first come, first served, basis.

Registration will be held on Tuesday, June 5, from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon at the Ballardvale Preschool, Ballard Vale United Church, 23 Clark Road, Andover. Bring proof of child's birthdate to registration.

The purpose of the summer camp is to provide preschoolers with unique experiences other than nursery school. They will be enriched with numerous outdoor and indoor activities including cooking, crafts, nature, games, musical exposure, drama, special events, and small field trips.

At Andover Bank, we've always made it a point to offer the latest in banking services to our customers. Pay-By-Phone is no exception. We know that it will save time, money and simplify record keeping and virtually eliminate postal loss or theft. Nearly a million people nationwide are using Pay-By-Phone because it's the modern way to handle all those bills you pay regularly like your mortgage, utility, department store or credit cards and bills that aren't so regular as well. . . you tell us who, when, and how much and we handle all the paper work. Under a pre-arranged plan we'll automatically pay fixed amount bills like mortgage and loan payments etc., or if you wish to make a payment later in the month, just call us at the beginning of the month and tell us what day you want it paid on. Pay-By-Phone is so easy, simple and sensible, especially these days when you've got more important things to do than spend hours writing checks. . . like playing with your kids. . . Pay-By-Phone. . . if we didn't think it worked, you wouldn't find it at Andover Savings Bank. Call us today at 475-6103 or visit any of our offices and ask about Pay-By-Phone.

Awards Presented at Senior Dinner

Andover High Senior Peter Newton received the coveted Charles A. Gregory Award as outstanding all-around student during the Class of 79 dinner and awards night last Thursday, and Carol Mirisola received the prestigious William A. Doherty Award.

The dinner and awards event were combined for the first time, at Joe Binnette's Restaurant in Middleton and Principal Philip Wormwood said the evening worked out so well it might become tradition.

He said it was a "congenial teacher-parent-student get together," with those who didn't want to attend the dinner showing up in time for awards later on.

Past awards assemblies have been held during the school day in the West Jr. High Auditorium, which will not hold as many parents and teachers as would like to come, Wormwood said. He said many teachers are involved with sophomore and junior classes at that time, and many parents can't come during the day.

Topping off the evening was the dedication of the yearbook to Science Teacher Frank Kennedy, and the traditional distribution and signing of the keepsakes.

Peter Newton's name will be engraved on the enormous Gregory trophy, which remains at the high school, Mirisola received the Doherty award from Wormwood, as the student who has most furthered the interests of the school.

Anne Moriarty was recipient of the Class of 1976's Peter Aumais Memorial Award.

Four Area Students Awarded Top Prizes

Four area students have won major awards at Phillips Academy, Andover.

Mark S. Bedell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bedell, has been awarded the Army ROTC Scholarship, and plans to attend the University of Pennsylvania next year.

Scott Taylor Randall is the recipient of the Harvard Club of Andover Prize which is awarded to the outstanding member of the upper middle class (11th grade) who combines excellence in scholarship with achievement in other fields. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon N. Randall and is a resident of Methuen.

Domenic Anthony Mazzoco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Domenic P. Mazzoco of Methuen, was selected as the winner of the Stiles Prize which goes to the member of the upper middle class whose judgment and loyalty to the school has been exemplary.

Alison L. Zaeder, daughter of the Reverend Philip Zaeder and Ms. Sylvia Thayer, has received two major awards at Phillips Academy. She was awarded the Improvement Prize which goes to a member of the senior class who has been a student at Andover for at least two years and who has shown the greatest development of character and scholarship. Alison also was selected for the Abbot Athletic Award which is given annually to a girl who has excelled in varsity sports and whose loyalty and good sportsmanship exemplify the highest ideals of Andover athletics. Alison plans to attend Wesleyan University in the fall.

Becoming Authors

Recently some fourth grade students at the Sanborn School discovered what it was like to become authors. Each child wrote a series of original stories which were then laminated and then finally bound into book form. Here, intently watching with an interested group of children, are Dennis Samson and Kenny DeBenedictis while art teacher, Jim Batchelder, gives final instructions for the binding.

Awarded Degree At Wheaton

Betty Lillian Welsh, 199 River Road, Andover, received the bachelor of arts degree with a major in political science at the 120th May commencement of Wheaton College, May 21.

Dr. Kenneth S. Kantzer, editor of "Christianity Today," spoke to the graduates.

Dr. Hudson t. Armerding, Wheaton College president, conferred the 347 baccalaureate and 58 master degrees.

While at Wheaton, she lettered in volleyball and basketball. She participated in the International Study Program. Miss Welsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Welsh, is a graduate of East Providence High School, R. I.

Wheaton is a co-educational Christian liberal arts college located 25 miles west of Chicago.

Degree Recipients At Regis

Cheryl A. Savukinas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent E. Savukinas, of 41 Mark Road, and Lori Jean Seccareccio, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Seccareccio, of 233 Johnson St., both of North Andover, received bachelor of arts degrees Sunday, May 27, from Regis College in Weston, at commencement exercises held in the tower Garden of the all women college.

Addressing approximately 200 graduates at Regis' forty-ninth annual Commencement was Pulitzer Prize winning poet Maxine Kumin who spoke on "Making It Into the 21st Century." Said Ms. Kumin: "The struggle for survival into the 21st century begins right here, with educated women taking a vow to assume their places in a society that has desperate need of them."

Miss Savukinas is a social worker at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton. She was on the yearbook staff and a member of the athletic association.

Miss Seccareccio majored in sociology.

Working Women

Eighty-six percent of working mothers questioned by the Time Out Institute feel their working is good for their children; 61 percent are more tolerant of both husband and children as a result of working and 55 percent do even more things together as a family.

SOME COLOR IDEAS

If you would like to add some brightness to a room, you might want to consider some furnishings in yellows. Yellow is the color of sunshine and that color can bring some sunshine to your home.

On the other hand, if you want to make a room seem quieter or more relaxed, try some blues or greens.

If you want to add some warmth and excitement to an area, you might consider some oranges and reds.

There are many things that the mere choice of color can do for you. Two identical pieces of furniture that are the same except for color can bring different moods and qualities to a room.

Don't overlook the fact, however, that a color is affected by the color it is next to, so be sure to use a color in relation to that to which it will be adjacent.

And, there are other considerations, too. For example, pale colors on things can make a room seem bigger since pale colors recede and give a feeling of more space, while dark colors come toward you and make an area seem smaller or more intimate.

We urge you to use color as a decorating tool, and we can help you select the colors and color combinations you want, in the places you want them in your home.

German Students Visiting Andover

Andover families are opening their doors once again to foreign students. This time it is West Germans; a group of approximately 20 students (ages 14 - 20) is coming for three weeks this summer, August 5-27. The program, sponsored by the Pacific American Institute, aims at giving both the German students and American students and families the kinds of experiences not ordinarily available to tourists. The Germans hope to learn what life in America is really like through living with a family as well as through the formal classes in English and American culture that will be held daily, and excursions that will be taken in the area.

Many of the Andover families who have already decided to participate have children of the same or similar ages as their visitors. These Andover teenagers say that they are looking forward to getting to know someone from another country and culture.

Along with the classes, many activities are planned for the German students and one of the advantages for the host family is that their children will be able to participate fully in these expeditions which include day long trips to Boston and Cambridge, Newburyport and Plum Island, and a tour of the new Lowell National Urban Park. Andover resources of course will be explored fully and we expect that the three weeks will be very busy for both guests and families.

The sponsoring organization is Pacific American Institute, headquartered in San Francisco, which began about ten years ago as an offshoot of a visit to California by a Japanese executive. For further information, contact Kathleen Murphy at 51 Whittier St.

Local coordinator for the program is Kathleen Murphy and teaching the program will be Wolf Berthold. Ms. Murphy is former director of the Salem State College Day Care Center, member of the Andover Declining Enrollment Committee, and on the board of the Andover League of Women Voters. Berthold is retired from Western Electric Company and has been active in many Andover programs, including A.V.I.S., the Industrial Development Commission, and the Red Cross.

Host families are being located now.

Lungs are filters which take oxygen out of the air. In breathing you use almost 100 gallons of oxygen each day.

Weil Is Awarded RPI Medal

David Marc Weil, son of Edward and Julie Weil, 11 Ivy Lane, Andover, has been awarded the Rensselaer Medal from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. The medal is an honor given the 11th grade student for outstanding achievement in the study of mathematics and science during the junior year at Phillips Academy.

One junior from each of approximately 1,300 high school is selected annually to receive this award. Each school, chosen on the basis of its superior academic standards, determines the selection procedure with the suggestion that the medal be awarded to the junior with the most outstanding achievement in mathematics and science. Each recipient is then eligible to compete for Rensselaer Medal Scholarships.

Established by RPI in 1916, the Rensselaer Medal has been awarded to more than 59,000 students in the interest of motivating them toward higher education and courses in scientifically oriented fields.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, the nation's first educational institution to award degrees in engineering, today is a university of 5,500 students.

Andover High Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

On May 18 over 150 couples attended the 1979 Junior-Senior Prom held at the Christian formation Center in West Andover.

Over a month before this date the decorating committee had been busy planning menus, choosing the color scheme, making flowers, building trellises and a bridge.

Chairman of the decorating committee was Len Peltier, Co-chairman was Sue Page. Host and hostess were Barry Ota and Mary Lu Petrella.

This year's theme was "All You Need Is Love." It was achieved by the romantic affect of the white trellises covered with real vines and hand made wysteria.

The bridge had birch handrails and vines tangling all around it. It took up a corner of the room. A pool was placed under it and trees and shrubs were all around it. It was truly a romantic's haven. This is where the prom pictures were taken and where the Queen, Mary Lu Petrella and her court, Chris Clementi, Aimie Poore, Bobbie Harris and Jill Kennedy reigned from.

The dancing ranged from slow, to disco, to the bunny hop. There were even a few gymnastics specialists who flipped to the beat. The band played songs such as "Don't Go Changing" to "Hello Dolly." This certainly kept everyone on their toes. Ever see Disco to "Hello Dolly?"

The color scheme was all in the purple shades. Flowers were violet, pink, purplish-blue and white.

The decorating committee would like to thank Pinewood Gardens for the use of their shrubs and Mr. and Mrs. Peltier for all the work they did.

The prom was successful and fulfilled every dream that one ever has of a prom. It was as if for that one night everything else was forgotten. The world suddenly became a lovely fantasy land, even the misty skies helped to add to this effect.

The evening was beautiful and something which will be long cherished by all those who attended.

East Jr. High Happenings

By Jennie Caffrey

After two weeks of heavy campaigning candidates for the student council offices along with their campaign managers appeared before an assembly of all seventh and eighth grade students in a final bid for votes. Voting was held the following morning and results of the election were announced by the present president, Sue Driscoll. Student Council officers for the 1979-1980 school year will be: president, Liza Crowley; vice-president, Larry Cuddy; treasurer, Laura Grams; secretary, Paul Kinsella.

Members of this year's Student Council held their annual outing this year at Rockport. In spite of the inclement weather a good time was had by all.

Congratulations to the winners of the annual marathon which was held the evening of our open house. First to cross the finish line was Joe Manning followed by Tom May and Mark Orrell respectively. All three are members of the ninth grade class.

Last Thursday members of the Special Friends accompanied the class to the New England Aquarium. Those attending included Jennie Caffrey, Mary Daly, Amy Crossley and Joanne Eaton of the ninth grade; Marie Meckel and Karen Saalfrank of the eighth grade and Anita Barbagallo and Danni D'Appolito from the seventh grade.

Academy Invites Residents

This summer, townspeople of Andover are invited to participate in a cross-cultural experiment with the international students from Phillips Academy Summer Session.

In a course designed to build communication skills, approximately 20 of the international students will interview fellow American students as well as members of the Andover community at large. Not only will the international students become more proficient in their English, it is hoped that they will gain a deeper understanding of American culture from those townspeople who are willing to share their philosophies and to describe their lifestyles.

Townspeople of varying ages and diverse occupations are encouraged to volunteer, and senior citizens would be a particularly welcome addition to the program. Participation in this experiment would involve one-half hour to one hour of mutual discussion and opinion-sharing on the P.A. campus. Persons interested in participating should contact Ms. Elaine Wilson, Phillips Academy, Andover.

In four years since enactment of the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit, average highway speeds have declined from 65 mph to 58 mph, the U.S. Department of Transportation reports.

APT Enriches Students

Andover creative drama students talking with an actor from the "Next Move Theater Company" in Boston are Robert Padva, Kill-Joon Park, David Eckman and Ellen Lemaitre.

A pilot program called Activity Programs for the Talented (APT) has offered a unique opportunity to nearly 100 elementary school children in Andover this year.

In November, teachers identified fourth, fifth, and sixth graders who exhibited talent in art, poetry, drama, textiles, newswriting or power mechanics.

A special enrichment program was provided for each of these groups, which met biweekly from November through April. Using local resources and community volunteers, the six programs were developed by Janis Baron, a former Bancroft School teacher. Mrs. Baron selected program coordinators from within the school system and the town, and worked with them to develop worthwhile programs for the talented youngsters.

APT was based on many assumptions, among them the following: that a talented child does not necessarily meet specific academic criteria; that numerous institutions and people in the community are anxious to become involved in a meaningful way with Andover youth; that students develop a deeper sense of commitment to their community as a result of such interactions; and that children benefit from meeting and working with other children who share similar abilities and interests.

Also critical to the program was a contract, which each student was required to sign before being admitted. This contract detailed the responsibilities that the student was undertaking by enrolling in APT. These included: attending all sessions, making up any missed classwork, and promising proper conduct.

Children from Bancroft, South, and Doherty Schools were selected for programs in Fine Arts, Creative Drama, and Poetry, while children from Sanborn, Shawsheen and West Schools were chosen for Power Technology, Textiles, and Newswriting. This type of grouping allowed for practical bus transportation to class locations.

The Creative Drama group was directed by Susan Lenoe, an Andover resident active in community theater and experienced in working with children. The students and Mrs. Lenoe met at South School, where they explored many elements of drama: theater games, improvisations, movement, and story theater. The Kitchen Sink Mime Theater, a professional group, conducted a workshop in mime techniques. Children had an opportunity to attend a performance of "Emil the Detective," produced by the Next Move Theater in Boston. They also prepared their own show for the kindergarten and first grade at South School.

Addison Gallery at Phillips Academy provided the setting for many of the meetings of the Fine Arts group, which was coordinated by Sally Wolfe, art specialist from Bancroft School. Chris Cook, director of Addison, conducted a tour and introduced children to a wide variety of media. At subsequent meetings they were welcomed to the studios of four Andover artists. Jan Lange explained the process of silkscreening; Cory Staid familiarized the students with watercolors; David Sullivan showed his studio and personal collection of art works; and Lee Ann Center provided an opportunity to work with ceramics. Each child in the group has been working on a project in his or her choice of medium; these works will be exhibited at Addison in June. The public will be invited.

Addison Gallery was also the site of many of the meetings of the Poetry students. These children, taught by Kate Lopes, were exposed to many forms of poetry. They were visited by poets and students from Phillips Academy and worked with them to create poems. The group plans to publish a collection of its works.

Newswriting students learned reporting techniques from their instructor, Diane Helfrich (a West Elementary School teacher) and from professional newspapermen, such as Mary Fitzgerald, Gerry Molina, Phil Pelletier, Mike Hanlon, Robin Romano, and Bob Alexander. The children used their new knowledge to publish a column called "Elementary Happenings" in the Andover Townsman. They also published their own "Tri-School Newsletter," which was distributed to children in their schools.

Bill McAllister, chairman of the Industrial Arts Department at Andover High School, worked with the Power Technology group. These fifth and sixth graders met in the high school and experienced "hand-on" activities with small engines. They also studied automotive systems and safety and visited Pica's Ignition Service in Methuen.

The Textiles group began their in-depth study by visiting the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum in North Andover. Subsequent meetings were held at Shawsheen School. There, Pam Fisher, a weaving instructor from the Textile Museum, introduced the children to the hand processes of picking, carding, and spinning wool; the various types of looms; and plain, twill and basket weaves. As a culminating activity, the children shared their work and demonstrated the operation of a loom for fifth and sixth graders at their schools.

Pack 75 On Overnight Adventure

Cut Scout Pack 75 of St. Augustine's School wound up the year with an overnight trip to Prudence Island, R.I.

The cubs, their parents, and a few brothers and sisters, first visited Battleship Cove in Fall River, where the main attraction was the U.S.S. Massachusetts. After touring the ships and having lunch aboard the Massachusetts, the boys boarded the Ferry to Prudence Island, where they spent the night at the Prudence Island Inn.

Last month, five of the scouts received the Parvuli Dei religious medal from Rev. Joseph Keffer, O.S.A., during the Mass at St. Augustine's Church. The were Joseph Bonanno, Glenn Fortin, Steven Gerrior, Kevin Henderson and Scott Kirwin. Following the Mass, all the scouts and their families attended the Blue and Gold Banquet at the school. They were entertained and amazed by students from the KS TAE KWON DO school of Lawrence.

After dinner, badges were presented to Brian Hannon — Wolf, 1 gold and 1 silver arrow; Matthew Fardy — 1 gold, 3 silver arrows; Kurt Seastrand and Louis LoPresti — Wolf; Drew Dunn — Bear; Peter Trede — 1 gold arrow; Jeff Holmes — 1 gold and 1 silver arrow.

Pack 75 plans at least two summertime events: a picnic-baseball game on July 28, and a trip to a Marine base on Aug. 11.

Special Businessman's Lunch Says Thanks

By Tim Greene

A hamburger for 30 cents? A dime for a Coke? French fries, a quarter?

Prices like that haven't been seen for about 25 years. Until last Saturday when Tom and Stella Koravos turned back the clock and sold certain items on their menu for the prices they charged in 1954, the year they bought Ford's Coffee Shop on Main Street.

"I had the largest crowd I ever, ever had," Tom said, "I had no idea there'd be such a tremendous reaction."

The Koravos' held their silver anniversary special not only as a celebration, but as an act of gratitude to their loyal customers. "We'd like to continue in the same way for as long as we can."

He said business on Saturday was about tripled over the usual trade with "hundreds and hundreds of people I've never seen before" coming in to take advantage of the special prices.

"We didn't expect to make any money on that day," Tom said, adding that after selling food at wholesale prices, he would be lucky to break even. "But that's not the point," he said, "it was a celebration type of day."

Ford's, advertised as the place "where Andover business goes home to lunch," was described by Stella as a "family type restaurant." According to Tom, "the kind of service it offers made it outlast the competitors who were around when he bought the shop and it has outlasted the new competitors who have started up since."

"The difference was we did not go in for big meals," he said, "We concentrated on a quick reasonable lunch. People were in a hurry, and wanted a quick breakfast and a quick lunch, and they'd go home for a big meal — like the old days."

Tom and Stella had a son and daughter who worked in the shop when they were growing up, and on Saturday their daughter, Olivia, now a teacher with children of her own, came back to work. In fact, Tom said, relatives and in-laws from Lowell drove in to help staff the shop, gratis, on the special day.

When they bought Ford's the Koravos' lived in Lowell where Tom had worked for eight years in the same business, but as an employee for someone else.

"After eight years, if you don't get into it on your own," he said, "you don't get anywhere. And it's a good business to get into."

The business went well, and in 1955, the family moved to Andover.

When they bought Ford's it was a bakery which had been in business since 1932. They decided to keep the name, because it was familiar around town, but chose to convert the bakery into a coffee shop. A year after opening the family moved here from Lowell; they have lived on Elm Street ever since.

One of the well-known features in the shop is the mural which hangs over the lunch counter. It is a view of the east side of Main Street which was painted in 1957 by Dorothy Peirce, a former employee. Tom said he has been offered as much as $1500 for it, but has refused. He said when he retires, he plans to donate it to the town to be hung in a public building.

On the back wall hang pictures of Tom and Stella with several political figures, including Sen. Paul Tsongas, House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill and former Sen. Edward Brooke. A clipping from the Boston Herald-American boasts that

THE FACTS ABOUT ENERGY

1. The consumer has no control over the cost of energy he requires.
2. The cost of oil in the fall is estimated to be 90¢ per gallon, which will affect the cost of electricity as well.
3. Natural gas prices promise to skyrocket through deregulation and increased foreign dependence.
4. Your alternatives as a consumer are: Conservation and efficiency.
5. We all know how to conserve, but the efficient use of energy requires professionals versed in the use of not only oil, but gas and electricity for heating, cooling, lighting and manufacturing.

Local Businessmen Aid Academy Campaign

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 31, 1979

A committee of local businessmen has formed to generate the support of Merrimack Valley corporations, businesses and industry for Phillips Academy's Bicentennial Campaign for $50,610,000.

The Merrimack Valley Business Gifts Committee, chaired by A. Leroy Bolton of Bolton-Emerson, Inc., already has raised over $60,000 from Lawrence, Andover, Lowell, Haverhill and surrounding communities. The committee is seeking $175,000 in endowment funds to help undergird Phillips Academy, now entering its third century, as an important economic, educational and cultural force in the Valley.

Officers of 11 area banks recently attended a breakfast meeting with PA Headmaster Theodore R. Sizer and Trustee Philip K. Allen to discuss the Academy's impact on local economy, the Academy's needs and the justification for Merrimack Valley business support of the PA fund drive. Headmaster Sizer suggested that the Academy is an important cog in the Merrimack Valley economy, and that it is in the business community's interests to support the Bicentennial Campaign.

"A strong and flourishing Phillips Academy is important to the Valley economically, educationally and through our facilities and cultural offerings," Sizer said. "We are proud of this community, and we are proud of the role the Academy plays."

Two of the banks already have made significant contributions, the Valley's Business Gifts Committee has made a fast start and is a third of the way to its goal. Key points in their brief for business support, based on research by Ronald Thorpe, P. A.'s campaign director for corporate support include:

- PA, as an institution does more than $1.5 million in purchasing (1977-78) from local businesses.
- PA is the fifth largest taxpayer in Andover, spending over $173,000 annually.
- PA's yearly payroll, currently $4.8 million, is an important factor in the economic health of the Valley.
- PA's people (2,000 students annually, 188 faculty and 350 staff) are a major group of consumers in Valley who do most of their banking and purchasing locally.

Ford's

Jackie Onassis ate there last fall, and that no one bothered her with taking photographs.

"They treated her just like any other private citizen," Stella said, "and I think she appreciated that."

Having run a business in one location for so many years, generations of young people in town have grown up with Ford's. The Koravos' own children grew up here, worked in the shop, got married and moved away. But they're not the only ones who remember.

"Girls come in here from ten or fifteen years ago, who were working here in high school," Tom said. "They say, 'Hello, congratulations, are you still here?'"

"We still are," he said.

• The Andover Inn, in addition to its regular dining clientele, brings 75 to 100 junior executives to the town each month through week-long management training conferences for major corporations.

• An estimated total of nearly $4.5 million is spent locally each year by Phillips Academy, its people and visitors.

As for the Academy's education role in the communities:

• Sixteen percent of the Academy's students come from the Merrimack Valley. This group receives about 25 percent or $225,000, of the Academy's financial aid budget.

• Phillips attempts to collaborate with and support the area public school systems. John S. Sullivan, former Andover School Committeeman and later chairman of Massachusetts' State Board of Education states, "I was able to see firsthand how important Phillips Academy is to the public school systems. Because of the quality of its academic program, it can afford to be innovative. It also maintains good relations with the local public schools, and performs a service by opening to public school students a number of courses not carried at the junior and senior high schools."

• PA's 44-year-old Evening Study Program, one of the oldest in the nation, now operates together with the town's Department of Community Services. Last year more than 500 people took evening classes at Phillips, some coming from 40 miles away.

Finally, there is a wealth of cultural events (musical, dramatic and lecture offerings free or at nominal cost) and community use of PA facilities (the Addison Gallery, Peabody Foundation for Archaeology, Cochran Bird Sanctuary, and athletic facilities, particularly the hockey rink and Case Memorial Cage, which serve Merrimack Valley teams, leagues and citizen groups).

Phillips Academy's endowment needs arise from its being both labor-intensive, as a school with a very low teacher-student ratio, and fuel-and-food-intensive, because it is residential. Need also comes from the desire to maintain a moderate tuition. The PA administration has achieved a balanced budget for the past two years.

According to Headmaster Sizer, Phillips Academy must be successful in strengthening its basic endowment through the extraordinary 200th year fund campaign, to keep inflation from eating into the quality of its programs, its economic role in the Merrimack Valley and the services the Academy can perform for its students and for its surrounding communities.

Phillips has taken its campaign to its alumni and parents and to foundations, and they have supported it handsomely, to the level of something over $35 million, with seven months remaining. In this last year of the campaign which closes Dec. 31, PA is taking its case to corporations, banks and businesses for support. The Academy hopes for a shining example of support from firms in the Merrimack Valley, where PA draws the largest contingent of its students, gives the largest number of its scholarships, and spends most of its money.

Girl Scout Camp Is Registering

If your daughter hasn't decided what she's going to do this Summer, you should investigate one of the few remaining vacation bargains Girl Scout Camp.

The Merrimack River Girl Scout Council offers both day and resident camping for all girls ages 6 to 17, whether they are Scouts or not.

Andover, Billerica, Lawrence, Methuen, South Lowell, Tewksbury and Wilmington girls participate in day camp at Camp Merrymeeting in Andover. The Director this year is Jo Ellen Schwartz. She and her staff will host an Open House at Camp Merrymeeting on Sunday, June 10, 1-4 PM. Campers, parents and others who are interested are invited to tour the grounds and facilities, and meet the staff.

The fee includes milk, some cookouts, craft supplies, swimming instruction, insurance and round trip bus transportation each day. Convenient bus stops have been arranged. Session dates are Monday - Friday, July 9-20, July 23 - August 4.

Resident camp programs are offered at Camp Runels in Pelham, NH. The Director this year is Virginia Fox, an experienced outdoor educator.

Camp Runels opens July 1 and runs through August 17. A wide variety of programs are offered including canoeing, sailing, biking, backpacking and farm living.

Anyone wishing complete information on all camping programs may contact the Merrimack River Girl Scout Council at 89 N. Main St., Andover or phone (617) 475-4511.

half located in Massachusetts. Its other locations are in Chicago, Illinois and Sunray, Calif.

Davidson said the company has been growing rapidly and during the next year would be adding several hundred new jobs. Sales last year exceeded $62 million.

Milton Greenberg, one of the founders of the company, is its president. The Andover resident, who served two terms on the board of selectmen and was its chairman during that period, was actively involved in his municipal capacity in assisting Arkwright/Boston and Hewlett-Packard in the opening up of the West Andover industrial area.

Greenberg currently serves on the Mass. High Technology Council, an advisory group to the governor, assisting in the improvement of the state's industrial climate. He also serves on a special scientific industry advisory committee to Sen. Paul Tsongas.

Lawrence S. Spiegel, chairman of the Andover's Industrial Development council said Wednesday he was pleased with the announcement that GCA had obtained on option on the West Andover acreage. He said the IDC would provide the necessary assistance in facilitating their planning processes.

Spiegel said that GCA represents the type of industry Andover has expressed a desire to obtain and its location in the southwest quadrant represents development of an appropriate, compatible, corporate neighborhood in that area of the community.

Rhys Kear, director of the Andover

Department of Community Development and Planning, was in attendance with the IDC in reviewing the development.

Road Race

Lowell's third annual Mini-Marathon race for the benefit of the American Cancer Society will be held Saturday, June 2. All those, male and female, of all ages, who are physically able to run the five mile course are invited to participate. Sign-up for the event will begin at 10 a.m., June 2 at the Greater Lowell Regional Vocational Technical School, which will be the starting and finishing points of the race.

However, entrants are asked to complete a registration form, available at the American Cancer Society, 226 Merrimack Street, Lowell, and pay a registration fee of $3.00 prior to the final sign-up time.

Trophies will be awarded to the first three finishers in each category and the winner of the race.

Open House Sunday At New Agency

Kirby Munro Lander, an Andover resident of 17 years and Helen R. Rindge, formerly a special education teacher in the Andover school system have opened Addison Travel Consultants, Inc., located at 34 Chestnut St., Andover.

Ms. Lander was manager of a travel agency in Wakefield for seven years and Ms. Ringe held the managerial position at an agency located in Manchester-by-the-Sea, for four years.

In their managerial positions they both developed retail and commercial travel accounts and promoted unique world-wide travel arrangements for individuals and groups. They both gained the respect of their business communities.

Ms. Lander is currently teaching the Travel Agent Course at Middlesex Community College, Bedford, as she has for the past year. Both Ms. Lander and Ms. Rindge teach various travel seminars for Middlesex Community College.

Addison Travel Consultants, Inc., will hold an Open House at their new office on 34 Chestnut St., on Sunday, June 3, from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Bachelors degrees will be presented to a total class of 493, in science, business, arts and nursing.

At the ceremony Gov. Ella Grasso of Connecticut will be awarded an honorary doctorate in public service.

Brittany

The Brittany Province in northwestern France is the land of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table. It is where some of the bloodiest battles of World War I were fought. It is a country of fun-loving yet deeply religious people, a center of culture and commerce, history and mystery at every turn of its 688 miles of coastline.

Including new landscaping, rocks, and other features the total project is expected to cost in excess of 3½ million. Outside financing to the extent of 2¼ million has been provided by the issuance of Industrial Revenue Bonds from the town of Andover, which have been purchased by the Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank of Boston.

The warehouse is being built to accommodate the future possibility of installing automated systems for product handling, and it is projected that with this addition it is possible to handle upwards of 300 million in annual sales expected.

represented color guards and marching units from the U.S. Army and Coast Guard, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Gold Star mothers, who lost a son in active duty, marched with the V.F.W.

The Elks, Masons, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Brownies, Camp Fire Girls, the A.W.A.N. Youth Club and the Andover Company of Militia were all represented in the parade.

Selectmen, the town manager, school committee, clergymen and dignitaries were led in the parade by police and fire department escorts.

Some American Indians used to believe that an eclipse meant the sun was being extinguished, so they tried to rekindle it by shooting fire-arrows into the sky.

Scuba Class

Mrs. Charles Raras, Jr.

Raras - Gilmartin

Deborah Anne Gilmartin of North Quincy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Strzelewicz, Jr., of Osterville, became the bride April 28 of Charles Raras, Jr. of Lowell. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raras, Sr., of Lowell.

The Rev. John Sarantos officiated at the 11 a.m. double ring ceremony at the Greek Orthodox Church of the Transfiguration in Lowell, and a reception followed at the Andover Inn.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore an empire gown featuring a bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace, mandarin collar and straight Alencon sleeves overlapped with full-length puff sleeves. The silk organza skirt featured a cathedral-length train also trimmed in Alencon lace. She also wore a fingertip mantilla of silk illusion bordered with Alencon lace and seed pearls, and carried a cascade bouquet of white silk roses, lilacs and violets.

Kathryn S. Gilmartin of North Quincy attended as her maid of honor, wearing a tunic dress of lilac Quiana with tulip hem.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony R. Romano of Coventry, R.I. announce the engagement of their daughter Susan L. Romano to Daniel V. Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Lynch of Andover.

Miss Romano graduated from Westfield State College, Westfield, and will be employed in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Lynch graduated from the University of Lowell, and will attend graduate school at the University of Texas at Austin.

A wedding is planned for the summer of 1980.

She carried a natural rosewood fan trimmed with silk violets and blue morning glories, and purple and blue streamers.

Wearing identical gowns were the bridesmaids, Lisa Strzelewicz of Quincy and Diane Rabias of Lowell.

James Raras of Chelmsford served as best man, and ushers were William Keegan of Lowell and William Strzelewicz III of Osterville.

The new Mrs. Raras received her associate degree in early childhood education from Quincy Junior College, and will be working for Merrill Lynch in Boston. Her husband received his B.A. in secondary education-English from Lowell University, and teaches in the Lowell School System.

Following a wedding trip to New York City, they are making their home in Lowell.

To Wed In Bradenton

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Snyder of Bradenton, Florida, announce the engagement of their daughter, Valerie Rose, to Lawrence Dewing Westfall of Andover. The couple will be married June 29 in Bradenton.

Miss Snyder was graduated from Manatee High School and the University of West Florida with a B.A. in Elementary Education. She is presently teaching third grade in the Manatee County School System.

Mr. Westfall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie

D. Westfall of Andover, was graduated from Andover High School and from the University of West Florida with a B.A. in Theatre Arts and Education. He is presently teaching English and Speech as well as being the Dramatics Coach at Bayshore High School in Bradenton, Florida.

The first evening school was established in New York City (then New Amsterdam) in 1661.

In Medical Program At Lynn

Pamela Peltier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Peltier of 17 Downing St., recently began a year-long medical technology program at Lynn Hospital.

The program is designed to teach the basic principles of laboratory techniques to senior medical technology majors at Simmons College.

Upon completion of the program, students will be awarded certificates and be eligible to take national registry exams given by the American Society of Clinical Pathology.

LOSES 114 POUNDS Credits Healthy Conway Diet

Connie Bilby has lost 114 pounds on the Conway Diet Institute's Ideal 1000 Calorie Diet.

A little over a year ago, Connie had high blood pressure and wore a size 24 dress.

Today, she wears a size 10. Her doctor has taken her off all medication since her blood pressure is now normal. She has taken up horseback riding, tennis and bicycling. Connie enjoys her new, active way of life.

"The Conway program has been just great for me. I highly recommend it," says Connie.

The Conway Weight reduction program consists of three main elements:

- The Ideal 1000 calorie diet that includes all food groups and exceeds the established nutritional requirement for adults.
- Weekly educational seminars that deal with the physical, nutritional and emotional causes of overweight.
- The Forever Slim plan for permanently maintaining slimness.

Confirmation At Temple

Shavuot is the third of the agriculturally based festivals of the Jewish year.

Following seven weeks after Pesach, this harvest festival serves again to remind the Jewish people of the closeness of ancestors to the soil, and their dependence on nature for their livelihood. Shavuot, Pesach and Succot are characterized "pilgrim festivals," for on these days Jews from all sections of Palestine brought thanksgiving offerings of their harvests to the Temple in Jerusalem.

Shavuot, once having represented only the natural world, later gained a spiritual dimension: the anniversary of the giving of the Torah on Mount Sinai. It is largely the spiritual and cultural aspect of Shavuot that has imparted to the holiday its present significance.

Early 19th century Reform Jews, seeking to give women equal status in all religious obligations, created the ceremony of Confirmation for both boys and girls on the holiday of Shavuot. Just as Moses received the Torah on Sinai according to legend, and subsequently passed it to each succeeding generation of Jews.

Confirmation exercises will be held at Temple Emanuel in Lawrence on Thursday Evening, May 31 at 7 p.m. Members of the tenth grade who will be confirmed at this religious service are as follows:

Stacy Aiello, daughter of Mrs. Rosanne Aiello, Adam Ackerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ackerman, Lisa Birnbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Birnbach, Barry Bloom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bloom, Susan Brody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brody, Peter Caplan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Caplan, Marilyn Duckworth, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Duckworth, Robert Faigel, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Faigel, Karen Hodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hodes, Jodi Kolodny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kolodny, Harris Levinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Levinson.

Meredith Maren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Maren, Sandra Milas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Milas, Donna Pollack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Pollack, Adam Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Robinson, Mark Rosen, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. David Rosen, Brian Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sherman, Roberta Shuman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shuman, Larry Strassberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Strassberg, Janet Wolk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wolk.

As part of the exercises these young people will participate in the Festival Services and also present a special program in recognition of the 31st Anniversary of the State of Israel.

Following the service and presentation, there will be a collation tended in honor of the class by the parents of the Confirmants. The Festival Service is a public worship service and open to the community.

Atty. Gerald M. Lewis, president of Temple Emanuel also announces that the concluding day of the Shavuot Festival, following Liberal traditions, will be held on Friday morning, June 1, at 10:30 a.m. in the Temple Sanctuary conducted by Rabbi Harry A. Roth and assisted by Cantor Irving Shuman. Special Yizkor Memorial Prayers will be recited at both services.

Officials Continue Doubt Of Better Postal Service

Robert Finlayson looks on dubiously as George Walker of the U. S. Postal Service explains to selectmen why the post office is not delivering the mail as rapidly as promised two years ago when a central sorting station was established in Lawrence.

A blizzard of statistics from regional postal director George Walker did not snow selectmen Tuesday night.

They said if things do not improve, they may call on Congress to sort out the problem of late mail delivery to Andover.

Selectman Susan T. Poore pointed out that a representative of Congressman James Shannon was present at the selectmen's meeting, and that a solution to Andover's mail difficulties might be sought at a Congressional level if Walker cannot improve service.

The problem started two years ago, according to Robert Finlayson, chairman of a postal study committee, a group of chamber of commerce members who studied mail delivery by surveying Andover businesses.

The percent of daily mail available in post office boxes at 8:30 a.m. dropped off after Andover's mail started being sorted in Lawrence in 1978 instead of here.

"We were promised prior to any relocation that service would be as good or better than we businessmen and women were accustomed to," Finlayson said. Walker promised 75 percent of the mail would be in post office boxes by 8:30 a.m., he said.

Because mail now arrives later, Finlayson said, staff hired by Andover businesses to handle the mail must sit with nothing to do for an hour or an hour and a half per day. "And 20 percent of the work day is costly," he said. "I do know the mail has not been in the boxes as we were accustomed to prior to 1978."

Walker said that remembering the way things used to be, most people tend to remember "the good old days," and exaggerate how good things were. There are no statistics on the percent of mail available in Andover post office boxes prior to the change of sorting location he said.

He said he did not remember promising that 75 percent of a day's mail would be in the boxes by 8:30 a.m.

Mail used to come from Woburn directly to Andover at 5:30 or 6 a.m., but now stops at Lawrence first to be sorted. It arrives there at midnight and is trucked to Andover in four dispatches: 6:35, 7:15, 8:05 and 9 a.m.

Walker said that all mail received by the Andover post office from the first three runs is in the boxes by 8:30. According to his statistics, that means 80 percent of the day's mail.

He quoted statistics from Finlayson's survey which indicated that morning mail service was frequently well above the 75 percent mark.

Finlayson said he was listing figures from Mondays, which always showed a better percentage, and from a company whose responses were discounted because they did not keep accurate records of their mail delivery.

Walker said the post office is sending the mail as fast as it can and all Andover-bound mail arriving at Lawrence before the 9 a.m. run, gets to Andover that day. "We cannot control the source of the mail," he said. "It is not possible to dispatch mail before its receipt."

"We're not trying to tell you you're getting the best mail service possible and wash our hands of the whole thing."

Industrial Property Acquired

Landover Realty Trust of Reading has purchased 94 acres of industrial land and 18,000 sq. ft. of buildings on River Road in Andover from Roland Langlois of New Hampshire.

According to Anthony Addonizio, Landover trustee, the site is ideally located ½ mile from Rt. 93 and one mile down the road from Polaroid's new site now under construction.

As landowners, Landover Realty Trust plans to introduce the site to major developers to develop the site into an industrial park and to present the site to major companies. The site, which is serviced by all public utilities, has 1,100 ft. frontage on River Road, and 3,000 ft. frontage along the scenic Merrimack River. Addonizio said that the Massachusetts State Department has approved plans to convert the River Road (exit 19) into a clover-leaf interchange to help the flow of traffic due to Polaroid's new site and anticipated increase in business activity in the area.

During the past few months Polaroid, and other companies have announced plans to locate in the Andover, Route 93 and Route 495 interchange area. Addonizio noted that the area has become a viable business site due to the access to major highways, the large skilled force of more than 200,000 workers in the Merrimack Valley region, and the dwindling supply and high cost of land in the Route 93, Route 128 interchange. These facts plus Governor King's new incentives to keep industry in Massachusetts, and the financing incentives offered the Andover/Lawrence Economic Development Commissions have added to the area's growth.

The industrial buildings purchased by Landover Realty as part of the entire parcel include a 10,400 sq. ft. and a 7,600 sq. ft. building. Landover plans to lease or sell the eight-year-old buildings.

Elderly Need Vehicle

The station wagon used by the Andover Haven for the Meals on Wheels program has been out of service for two weeks, and cannot be repaired, creating scheduling problems for the Haven's other vehicle, Tom Powers, chairman of the council on aging, told selectmen Tuesday night.

When selectmen voted last week to keep the wagon on the road for another year while looking for someone to donate a new one, they did not know the old one was already beyond repair. The need for a new one now seems more urgent than was earlier thought.

"We really need your help," Powers said, "and anything you can do for us would really be appreciated."

Clayton Northy, part-time driver for the Haven, has been donating his truck for two weeks so the Haven, can continue to deliver meals from West Junior High cafeteria to elderly persons who cannot leave their homes or cook their own meals.

But another service of the Haven, transporting elderly to their doctors' offices, has been hampered by the loss of the wagon. "The other vehicle can't be in two places at once," Powers said.

Powers said he tried to tell selectmen last week, but he could not find them when he came to the Memorial Hall Library. They were meeting in the town hall.

Selectmen said they would begin a letter campaign to find a business willing to donate a vehicle. The donation, Selectman James Abramson said, could be used as a tax write off.

A Conference Might Help

School officials this past week suggested that possibly some policy and guidelines should be drawn up by the finance committee in an effort to allow for smoother operations.

A conference toward that end between representatives of the FinCom and the school committee might be helpful and may tend to avoid the barbs and charges which were bandied about before and during this year's annual town meeting.

The school budget was the prime target this year. The intent was to make the school department conform to the four per cent tax cap, which in reality was practically an impossibility.

There were charges made prior to town meeting about the school department operations. There were charges of "mismanagement" of school budgets and financial handlings on the floor or town meeting by FinCom members.

It should be understood from the outset that school departments are generally held in somewhat questionable esteem by their associates in municipal operations because of the autonomy status.

FinComs throughout the state, along with other municipal organizations annually attempt to get that autonomy status removed, but have not as yet succeeded.

Town meeting this year succeeded in reducing school department expenses and will not be challenged, apparently, for a restoration of funds through the courts, which the school committee could probably succeed in accomplishing.

School officials were criticised for mustering their forces in support of their budgetary request.

As long as Andover maintains its open town meeting form of government, departments or proponents of issues cannot be faulted from protecting their ox from being gored.

In general it was generally apparent that the FinCom and others, were out to give the educators a lesson this year, a lesson that only time will tell how serious the effort will be on town and its school system.

What is interesting is some of the things that were not offered as guidance by the FinCom.

Voters were told that the general town budget would be within the four per cent tax cap. There would be alternatives given the voters to decide if they wished to exceed that plateau, which they did.

Left unsaid, or at least not emphasized was the fact that there were exemptions to the tax cap regulations within the town's budget, such as bond redemption, pensions, etc., increased water rates to produce more revenue, which allowed the town budget to be under the four per cent cap.

The school department had no such exemptions, and remain saddled with state regulations which compel the department to initiate course offerings at parental request, provide special education where deemed necessary and other factors.

Based on the town meeting process just completed, it is simple to determine that criticism is easy — maybe even more so in the case of the schools because of heavy expenditure needed for modern education.

By the same token it could be just as easy to be constructive, through initiating some effort to develop some policies — in writing — between the schools and the FinCom.

The FinCom is an advisory group which is to make recommendations to the town. Also, to review the budgets of the various departments and be advisory there as well.

Maybe now that the dust is settling after the annual business has been completed would be an appropriate time for the two groups to work on ironing out their differences.

We wouldn't suspect that anything great would happen overnight, but it would be advantageous to the town if the nit-picking and charges of mismanagement could be avoided in the future.

School Committeeman John Eaton, a newcomer to the board, said last week, he was disturbed by the vindictiveness and animosity as well as the out-to-get attitude which permeated town meeting with regard to the schools this year.

We concur in his feelings and hope that some effort will be forthcoming to prevent a recurrence next year.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — May, 1904

Professor Richard Burton will lecture on "The Modern Novel" at Abbot Hall on Saturday afternoon, June 4, at 2:30 o'clock. Tickets 35c.

Miss Florence Ash has tendered her resignation as teacher in the Stowe School and has accepted a position in the public schools in East Orange, N.J.

The Boston and Northern street railroad company are planning to run a new line from Lawrence to Lowell on the south side of the Merrimack River. It is to be built past the westerly side of Haggetts Pond to the Ballardvale Road and thence to Tewksbury. It will be three miles shorter than the present route and the run will be made in about 30 minutes.

The Mother's Club of the Indian Ridge School held a very enjoyable meeting in the kindergarten room last evening. There was a large attendance of members and friends who thoroughly enjoyed the program which was arranged. It consisted of piano solos by Miss Prescott and Gordon May and a most interesting address by Rev. F. R. Shipman upon "Parents and the Home." Refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

Arthur Comeau has purchased a fine house for use in his carpentering business.

50 Years Ago — May, 1928

Indian Ridge Rebekah lodge 136 I.O.O.F. celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary Saturday night in the town hall with a banquet, short business meeting, reception and entertainment program.

"Seventeen" by Booth Tarkington, dramatized by Stanislaus Stange and Stanard Mears was the play chosen to be presented by the Junior class of the Punchard Jr. High School in the Town Hall last Friday evening.

The resignation of Harry Lee, who transported school children from the north district in West Andover to the Shawsheen school and also to the central schools was accepted at the school committee meeting held last Tuesday evening and the Mason Bus Company of North Reading has taken over the route for the remainder of the school year.

At the meeting of the board of public works held Wednesday evening it was voted to open Haggetts Pond for fishing for citizens of Andover who have obtained a permit from the board of public works.

The season will be open from June 15 to Sept. 15, inclusive.

The art, domestic science and manual training departments of the Andover public schools combined in an exceptionally fine display of handiwork held on Thursday afternoon and evening in Punchard school.

25 Years Ago — May, 1954

In presence of the pupils and teachers of the Central elementary school an impressive flag raising ceremony took place the morning of May 26 which was attended by the parents of many pupils.

In a lengthy session Tuesday night, the school committee heard a delegation representing the West elementary school relative to the proposed transfer of the fifth and sixth grades to the Central school.

Andover joined the nationwide observance of Memorial Day with a fitting remembrance of loved ones who have passed to their eternal reward.

The spring outing held last week by the Andover Board of Trade more than met with the expectations of those interested.

Some 67 members and guests were present. All who attended this lobster dinner and dance at the Log Cabin in the Phillips Academy bird sanctuary thoroughly enjoyed the good time provided by the officers of the board and the committees working on arrangements.

Tax collector James P. Christie has been named by the selectmen as chairman of the local drive for the American Korean foundation.

10 Years Ago — May, 1969

Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, named Tuesday as Andover's next superintendent of schools, said he was drawn to Andover by the school committee's "frank and open discussion of educational matters" and by what the building of the Bancroft School told him about the Andover community.

The Greater Lawrence Vocational Technical High School conducted its first graduation exercises Wednesday night marking an important occasion for the West Andover school.

Time has run out on the town's power to take land by eminent domain for access routes to Bancroft School from Moreland

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

The last in the series of Gerontology Workshops, sponsored by Northern Essex Community College, will be held at The Haven Wednesday, June 6 from 1 to 5 p.m. It is open to all interested in solutions to the problems posed by aging.

The June birthday party will be held at The Haven June 6 for everyone whose birthday is in June. Call The Haven if you have not yet told them, so that you may be an honored guest. If your birthday is not in June come to the party anyway to help celebrate. 2 p.m. June 6 at The Haven.

The singing group from The Haven under the expert direction of Helen Robinson has resumed their activities. They will perform June 6 at the birthday party and on June 13 at Academy Manor Nursing home. Anyone who loves to sing is invited to join the group.

The day trip to the Manchester Mall is scheduled for June 12. The bus will leave The Haven at 9:30 a.m. and return about 3:30 p.m. Transportation will cost $3.50, but what you spend beyond that is up to you. There are many different places to eat, lots of places to sit and watch the people pass, and of course a wide variety of shops through which you may browse. Reservations should be made now at The Haven.

There are still a few places available for the day trip to Newport, R.I. June 26. You'll tour Newport's elegant "Breakers," and cruise about the Harbor among other things. The cost of $20 includes everything — even the delicious luncheon.

June 14 at 10 a.m. Dan Trenbley of the Andover Board of Health, will speak at The Haven on "Food Sanitation and Storage." You are all invited to come learn from an expert how to keep your safe and wholesome especially through the hot weather.

The afternoon of June 14 the Andover Historical Society will present the fourth in its series on old Andover — at 2 p.m., at The Haven. It's free and so interesting!

June 21 at 10 a.m. The Haven will present "For Men Only." Guest speaker will be sportswriter Mike Gallant of the Eagle Tribune.

The next pot luck luncheon at The Haven will be June 27. Mark the date on your calendar.

And while you're marking your calendar reserve Monday afternoons for the film series to be held at The Haven through the summer. The first in the series is "The Goodbye Girl," June 25 at 2 p.m.

Seek Members

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., has announced a new member drive. Through the end of June, the group will be welcoming and auditioning singers to fill the 25 openings in the women's chorus.

The Sweet Adelines meet every Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the chapel at Tewksbury State Hospital, off East Street.

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR WEEKLY SPECIAL

Where's Idi Amin? Libya a Good Guess

WASHINGTON — For the past several weeks, American intelligence agencies have been playing a new guessing game: Where's Idi Amin?

The deposed Ugandan dictator has been hiding out since his government was overthrown last month. The new rulers would like to get their hands on him. They hold him responsible for the senseless deaths of hundreds of thousands of Ugandans during his reign of terror.

We have checked our intelligence sources to find out what has happened to Amin. One report claims he is in Libya under the protection of Libyan strongman Muammar Qaddafi. This report warns that Amin may be plotting a comeback.

Another report contends that the new Ugandan rulers would like to make a deal with Qaddafi to swap 40 Libyans captured in the recent fighting for Idi Amin.

Yet another intelligence source told us that Amin is "laying low" and that he is believed to be in Libya.

Our best intelligence source, always highly reliable, told us he had received "independent corroboration" that Amin is Qaddafi's guest in Libya and is actively planning a terrorist campaign against the new Ugandan government.

Amin has the secret support, according to this analyst, of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Both Amin and the PLO are close to Qaddafi. And, our source said, the PLO has agreed to help Amin with his terrorist plot.

The aim is to destabilize the Ugandan government and demoralize the Ugandan people. Then the terrible Amin would attempt a comeback.

More on Marston: Vice President Walter Mondale is the latest high official to become entangled in what has become known as the "Marston scandal."

David Marston used to be the U.S. attorney in Philadelphia, where he investigated some powerful Pennsylvania Democrats. One of them, former Rep. Joshua Eilberg, placed a telephone call to President Carter to complain about Marston. Not long afterward, Attorney General Griffin Bell abruptly fired Marston.

Now we have learned that another subject of the investigation, state senator Henry Cianfrani, met with Vice President Mondale. A knowledgeable source has reported to the FBI that Cianfrani spoke to the vice president about Marston.

This was denied by Mondale's office. A spokesman admitted there was a Mondale-Cianfrani meeting but claimed it was strictly routine. He disputed that the Marston investigation was discussed and denied that Mondale had anything to do with firing Marston.

Nevertheless, Marston was summarily fired. He took advantage of the publicity to run for governor of Pennsylvania. He lost and is now running for mayor of Philadelphia. He won the Republican nomination several days ago.

Both Eilberg and Cianfrani were drummed out of office. Eilberg was fined and received probation; Cianfrani was convicted and jailed for corruption.

The FBI, which investigated the phone call between Eilberg and President Carter, is now looking into the contact between Cianfrani and Vice President Mondale.

Pentagon Pipeline: Inflation is eating its way into the kitchens and dining halls of the nation's armed forces. Because of spiraling food prices, the Pentagon plans to limit its purchases of high-priced food items. The brass hats say the troops will have to eat less beef and more poultry, pork and cheese. The Army alone is planning to cut its beef purchases by 25 percent and increase the use of soy-extended ground beef. Red salmon will be eliminated completely from the soldiers' diet and they will also have to make do with a million pounds less of raisins.

• More than $500 worth of fuel was burned up recently to bring a monstrous 92-ton front-end loader up the James River from Fort Eustis to Fort Lee, Va., so Army generals would watch the machine work. But when the machine was rolled onto the pavement where the generals were to view it, the asphalt buckled. The demonstration never took place and another $500 worth of fuel was consumed to ship the machine back downriver.

Watch on Waste: The antelope are leaving New Mexico and the taxpayers are going to pay through the nose to find out why.

This state was the home where thousands of antelope roamed, but now there are only a few hundred left. They are not in danger of extinction, but the federal government wants to know why they don't like New Mexico.

So $311,000 in public funds will be spent for a four-year study of the foods antelope eat and the types of fences they manage to pass through. The scientific community already knows, of course, that antelope like broad-leaved plants and would prefer, if given their druthers, to negotiate woven wire fences rather than the barbed kind.

But there has never been a long-term antelope-in-New Mexico study. Four years from now, that vacuum will be filled.

Tourist Tip: Those who hope someday to visit the White House or the Washington monument should bear in mind that both landmarks were built on what was once swampland and are sinking one-quarter of an inch every 30 years. They will drop out of sight in something less than 111,000 years.

Children's Games Day

How did children's games begin... when... where? Why do Eskimo, Polynesian, Japanese, French, Salem chicken all play cats cradle in much the same way and give it very different names? It's a mystery for sure and there are many who care what the answer may be. For by any name in any part of the world, children's games are fun and this is the heart of the Peabody Museum's Saturday morning program.

Children of many ages will have a chance to enjoy a wide variety of familiar and not so familiar games in various museum halls near the exhibits of cultures and countries whose children have played or still play similar games. Games of counting, balancing, concentrating, guessing. Games of skill and games of luck.

The program starts at 10 and ends at 11:30 on Saturday, June 2. There is a $1.00 charge for each child. Parents accompanying children are welcome free of charge. Ask for the Children's Games Program at the Admissions Desk.

Culture On Show At South School

South School students put on a Cultural Fair last Wednesday that featured everything from nursery rhyme theatre in kindergarten, to demonstrations of colonial crafts, creative writing, science projects and the telling of "fantastic tall tales." Clockwise, beginning above: Grade 4's "Singing Drago" puppet show; Mike Lasquade of the Metric Circus; Mike Alden and Paul Fuchs with their erupting volcano; and finally, Stephen Kelleher enjoying it all.

Warriors Edged For Title

33

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 31, 1979

The State Class B Track Championship turned out to be Methuen's day over the Andover Golden Warriors as the Rangers came out on top 73-64 3/4 over Andover as both schools outdistanced a 40 school field.

Andover led by 1 3/4 points going into the final event, the mile relay, but could not cope with Methuen's great relay team.

In what has come to be a classic track rivalry, Andover has won the State Class B. Relay championship, the Andover Booster's Invitational championship, and the Northern Area championship, while Methuen has come out on top in the Merrimack Valley championship race and in the Class B championships, in five head to head meetings between the schools this season. Next week the two area powers lock heads with the best in the state in the All class State Championships which will be held at Gardner High School starting at 10 a.m.

In Saturday's Class B title meet it was once more the members of Andover's outstanding 440 relay team that sparked the locals. The 440 relay team, made up of Paul Farnham, Melvin Berger, Bob Wilkins and Noel Pizarro won impressively in the blazing time of :43.5, breaking their own school record. In individual events all four were equally impressive. Wilkins set an all time personal test as he won the high jump with a leap of 6'6".

Berger blazed to first place in the 100 yard dash in a time of 10.1, Farnham Pizarro ran a strong second to New England champ Kevin Tarr in the 220. Rip Williams also did an excellent job for the Warriors with a third place finish in a strong 440 field, as did Bob Surret who ran :40.1 to take a second place in the 330 yard low hurdles. Considering the rainy conditions, all of these performances were definitely top flight. Rounding out the scoring for Andover were Kip Jones who jumped 6' to tie for fourth in the high jump and Doug Starkweather who took sixth in the shot put with a throw of 47'8".

Jeffrey Receives Letter

David E. Jeffrey, III son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Jeffrey of North Andover, was one of 20 swimmers to receive a varsity Block H letter at the recent Hobart College Awards Banquet.

Jeffrey, a freshman, competed as a member of the Statesmen's 400-yard freestyle relay team in a season that saw Hobart compile a 10-5 record.

A product of Worcester Academy, Jeffrey is a member of the Sigma Phi Fraternity.

Hobart is a liberal arts coordinate institution along with William Smith College in Geneva, New York, the Upstate region of New York State, which was founded in 1822.

Farnham Top In Ivy League

Brown junior defensemen Mark Farnham of Andover and Cornell senior goalie John Griffin, Baldwin, N.Y., have been chosen as the 1979 Ivy League Lacrosse "Co-Players of the Year." Griffin's selection continued a string of six straight years in which a Cornell performer has been honored as an Ivy Player of the Year.

Farnham and Griffin who were the first players at their positions to be honored with Ivy "Player of the Year" status, were also the only unanimous choices on the 1979 All-Ivy team which featured three players each from Cornell and Harvard, two from Brown, and one apiece from Dartmouth and Yale.

Cornell, which won the Ivy League lacrosse title for the sixth straight time this season was represented on the first team by Griffin, senior attackman Ned Gerber (Towson, Md.), and senior midfielder Reiley McDonald (Monkton, Md.). Harvard's trio of first team selections was comprised of senior attackman Mike Fought, Wilton, Conn., junior midfielder Peter Predun, Greenlawn, N.Y., and defenseman Haywood Miller, Annapolis, Md., who was the only sophomore picked to the first team.

Farnham is a 1976 graduate of Andover High School. He also earned All-Ivy honors in the fall of 1978, as a wide receiver on the Brown football team.

Soccer Camp At P.A.

As most residents of Andover are well aware, soccer mania has hit this town. This spring, over 700 boys and girls are kicking the black and white ball and having a terrific time!

As the sport continues to grow it becomes more competitive. Last summer almost 150 soccer players from Andover ages nine to eighteen found a way to increase their skills by attending the local Andover soccer camp situated on the campus of Phillips Academy. After playing soccer six hours a day for a week many of these athletes find themselves leaders on their age group soccer teams this spring.

If one enjoys playing soccer and wants to better his skills and strategy of the game, attending the Andover soccer camp this summer would be advantageous. It offers an opportunity to meet and compete with players from other local towns in a relaxed enjoyable atmosphere. The camp is staffed by a knowledgeable group of excellent players and coaches from throughout New England. Its location on the Phillips campus makes it especially

Pvt. Staid Completes Course

Pvt. Kathleen A. Staid, daughter of Mrs. Corinne M. Staid, 83 Central St., Andover, recently completed a wheel vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the course, students were trained to perform maintenance and assist in the repair of automotive vehicles and associated equipment.

Kathleen, a 1976 graduate of Andover High School, entered the Army in October of last year.

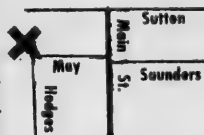

Her father, J. Leo Staid, lives at 3 Punchard Ave.

Seniors End Season

The last week of the 13-year-old Senior League baseball was cut short by rain. The results of some of the games this week and the final standings are as follows:

Standings

Red Sox	7-3
Mets	6-4
National	6-5
Indians	5-5 American
Angels	4-7
	3-7

National 7, Indians 2

Eric Fitzpatrick and Brian Barry combined their talents to limit the Indians to two hits. Jon Crawford went 3 for 3 with a solo homer and had help from John Sheedy, Steve Nagey, and Bill Baldwin in the hit department. Bill Vickers struck out 9 going the distance in a losing effort. Chris Rourke and Tim Miller got the hits for the Indians.

National 10, Angels 3

Jon Crawford, went the distance, giving up only 3 hits and striking out 9 to notch the win. John Sheedy, Brian Barry, Todd Derry, Steve Nagey, Steve Perlberg, Bill Baldwin, and Crawford all hit safely for the Nationals. David Caiati tripled for the Angels. Ted Staats and Ken Doherty, got the other 2 hits.

Red Sox 5, Indians 2

Mike Coelho pitched five hit ball and fanned seven as the Red Sox topped the Indians. Jim Wiseman had two hits including a two bagger and Ian Torok hit well. Paul Burke made a spectacular backhand catch in the hole at short and gunned the ball to Torok at first to retire Scott Stammer's bullet smash. Indians' Sean Burns tripled, Stammers doubled, and Steve Eldred and Kirk Orell banged out singles for the losing team.

National 12, Mets 2

Eric Fitzpatrick struck out 9 going the distance to beat the Mets. He allowed only 4 hits. Zack Appgar, Brian Barry, Bill Baldwin, Greg McAnern, John O'Conner, Jon Crawford, and Fitzpatrick provided the scoring punch. Dean Weaver, Chris Marcella, and Mark Perlowski hit for the mets with Perlowski getting 2 hits.

The Federal Railroad Administration predicts that 14.8 million people will ride the upgraded Northeast Railroad Corridor when the project is complete around 1981. This is an increase of 53 percent over 1977.

Three-Way Battle For First

A tight battle between the Red Sox, Tigers and Orioles in the American Major League has made practically every game important. The White Sox have been spoilers with wins over the Tigers and Orioles this week. After four weeks the standings are as follows:

	W-L
Red Sox	6-2
Tigers	6-2
Orioles	5-3
White Sox	4-4
Indians	3-5
Yankees	2-6
Twins	1-6

Orioles 9, White Sox 5
This game became the longest of the year. It was called after 7 innings while tied at 5-5. Four days later, when the game was continued in the eighth inning, Bobby Stabile put the game away with a 2-run double for the Orioles.

The winning pitcher was Jason Reeder who pitched the last 3 innings, struck out seven, gave up only one hit and no runs.

For the Orioles, Tom Marjerison, Mark Paskowsky, David Curtis, and Bobby Stabile each had two hits while Neal Weaver and David Workman had two each for the White Sox.

Dylan Callahan did an excellent job catching for the White Sox and Mark Paskowsky made two fine catches in centerfield.

White Sox 4, Orioles 3

In a rematch, the White Sox won a tightly pitched game with Jamie Bernardin pitching 6 innings for the victory. Brian Finnerty pitched well for the Orioles.

The White Sox grabbed the early lead with two runs in the third and two more in the sixth. The Orioles erupted for three runs in the bottom of the sixth. With the tying run on third base, 9-year old Allen Reeder hit a sharp line drive, but Danny Sheehan at shortstop grabbed it for the last out of the game. Sheehan also made several other nice plays at short for the White Sox. Several other fine defensive plays were made in the game. Neal Weaver for the Sox, Mark Paskowsky, Jason Reeder and Tommy Marjerison for the Orioles were involved in nice plays that resulted in runners being cut down at home while trying to score.

Peter Quintal had the game winning hit for the Sox with a double that drove in two runs; Jamie Bernardin also doubled, Danny Sheehan, Chris Comparato and Neal Weaver contributed singles. Allen Reeder had a sharp double for the Orioles; Tom Marjerison for the Orioles were involved in nice plays that resulted in runners being cut down at home while trying to score.

Peter Quintal had the game winning hit for the Sox with a double that drove in two runs; Jamie Bernardin also doubled, Danny Sheehan, Chris Comparato and Neal Weaver contributed singles. Allen Reeder had a sharp double for the Orioles; Tom Marjerison, Jason Reeder, and Brian Finnerty singled.

Indians 21, Twins 9

The Indians erupted for 17 hits in a slugfest match with the Twins. The Twins scored three runs in the first inning but the Indians scored 8 and managed to score in every inning. Paul Sheedy was the winning pitcher.

The Indian's Matt Shine tripled and singled; David Nelson, Bobby Pothier, Andy Frost and Gary Bachinsky each had to singles. Billy Lane, Briants Gaudet, and Mike Boush doubled for the Twins and Chris Sappuppo and Scott Bertetti each had two hits.

Walter Radulski at third base and Roger Fisk at second base played well defensively for the Twins.

Tigers 9, Orioles 6

The Tigers overcame a 5-1 deficit to win as Billy Wideman pitched three innings of shut-out relief to save the game for winner Mark Doherty. The Tigers hit the ball hard the whole game with doubles from Kevin Rourke, Mark Doherty, Billy Wideman, John Duffy, and Eric Neyman. Neyman also picked up two RBI's.

Brian Finnerty had two singles for the Orioles. Orioles catcher Tom Marjerison and left fielder Chris Concermi played well defensively as did Tiger catcher Shane Smith.

Tigers 6, Red Sox 5

This game had all the characteristics expected in a great ball game — great defensive, timely hitting, super pitching, extra innings and first place at stake. The Sox jumped off to a 4 run lead in the first inning and held on until the fifth inning when Tiger's 10-year old Earl Abdo drove in 3 runs with a 2-out, bases loaded triple to tie the game.

Billy Wideman picked up the win with 4 innings of great relief pitching as he held the Red Sox scoreless for the last three innings. He was backed with fine defensive plays. Centerfielder Earl Abdo made a game saving, running catch of a hard line drive. Both catchers, Andy Thompson for the Sox and John Duffy for the Tigers, played well and Red Sox centerfielder Jim Kochakian also made a fine catch of a sharp line drive.

The Red Sox hitters were led by Peter Gushov with a triple and double; Mike DelTrecco picked up two singles. For the Tigers, Duffy, Wideman, and Eric Neyman belted doubles; Duffy added 2 singles, Kevin Rourke, and Ray Rourke each had two hits and Wideman also had a single.

Ray Rourke had the game winning hit with a clutch two-out line drive over short in the seventh inning.

Backstreet — "Fine Dining & Spirits" A Classy Little Restaurant In A Classy Little Town

Backstreet, located at 19 Essex Street, has definitely added a "Touch of Class" to fine dining. Whether it's a unique luncheon or a continental dinner, the food, service and friendly yet efficient atmosphere each speaks for itself.

Your host, Richard DeAngelis, and his sister Bernadette, have combined their years of experience in bringing Andover a first quality restaurant. (Richard formerly owned a Ski Lodge in New Hampshire and his sister owned a restaurant in Boston). Together with their mother, "Mrs. Dee," as Day Hostess, and Richard's wife, Christine, as Evening Hostess, the DeAngelis' are making Backstreet a truly memorable experience.

The decor gives the feeling of warmth and congeniality — brick walls accented by stained glass wall hangings and each lamp post with a Tiffany Tulip Lamp. Various brass antiques, hanging plants and a spectacular apothecary breakfront create a truly delightful atmosphere. The casual, yet quick, luncheon hours are transformed into elegant dining in the evening hours with linens, crystal, and flaming coffees if desired.

With the change in seasons comes a change in Backstreet. The warmer months bring a lighter menu, with super-salad specialties and crepes galore, plus fresh strawberry and banana Daiquiris.

Daily Specials by the day or evening are rapidly becoming the "talk of the town." Fresh prime cut meats, seafood and tender milk-fed veal are the foundations of house delicacies such as Veal Oscar, Medallions of Beef Essex, and Scallops St. Jacques Gratinée. Desserts include Peach Melba, Chocolate Mousse and the famed Backstreet Chocolate Marble Cheesecake. Their Wine List includes your favorite wines.

To meet the needs of all of the people, the DeAngelis' have added extended dining hours of 11 A.M. to 11 P.M., 6 days each week and 3 P.M. to 11 P.M. on Sundays. Valet parking is available on weekends. Reservations accepted Sunday through Thursday, 19 Essex Street, Andover, Mass. 475-4411.

The word "booze" is believed to come from the Dutch "buizen," meaning "to drink to excess."

Little League

Orioles 8, Indians 4

The Oriole's Jason Reeder had all the Indians eating out of his hand with the notable exception of Indian David Nelson. Reeder had 12 strike-outs and gave up only six hits. Nelson had 3 RBI's and 3 of the hits — a single, a double and a bottom of the sixth two-run homer to tie the score. The Orioles came up with 4 hits and 4 runs to win the game in the seventh inning.

For the Orioles, Mark Paskowski, Tom Marjerison and Jason Reeder each had two hits; Jeff Kennedy, Jeff Kuo and David Curtis had one each. The Indian's Gary Bachinsky and Jim Daly singled and Matt Shine doubled.

White Sox 9, Tigers 8

The White Sox knocked off another first place team as they came up with a two-run rally in the sixth inning to win. The game was a see-saw affair that saw the Tigers winning 5-0 then losing 7-5 before Billy Wideman hit a sixth inning 2-run homer to put the Tigers ahead 8-7. Peter Quintal had the game winning hit in the bottom of the sixth as the White Sox came back again to win.

Jamie Bernardin and Chris Comparato (the winning pitcher) split the pitching for the White Sox.

Comparato and Dave Workman each had two hits for the Sox. Neal Weaver, Bernardin, and Dylan Callahan had singles. Billy Wideman also singled for the Tigers; Kevin Rourke, John Duffy, and David Vickers each singled.

Red Sox 10, Yankees 9

The Yankees refused to roll over and die as they battled the first place Red Sox down to the last out. The Red Sox scored 10 runs in the first four innings but the Yankees came back with 6 runs in the last two. In the sixth inning with the bases loaded and two outs Yankee 9-year-old Scott Powers hit a short fly to right field and Sox right fielder Bob Charland made a shoe-string catch to save the game.

The Red Sox's Peter Gushov came up with the offensive performance of the year — 2 home runs, one single, 4 RBI's, 3 runs scored. He also played a fine defensive game at short. Eddie Melia had a double and single and Jerry Nassif had two singles for the Sox. The Yankee's Dave Doucette and Mike Klinger (2) collected doubles, Paul Conlon had two hits and Doucette also singled.

Indians 12, Twins 3

The Indians came from behind to defeat the Twins as winning pitcher Paul Shеды steadied to pitch one-hit, no-run ball for the last four innings.

Dave Nelson led the Indians with two doubles and 3 RBI's. Jeff Smith had a double, Bobby Pothier had two hits, Shеды and Robbie Barnard had one each. For the Twins, George Heseltine doubled, Chris Sappuppo, Roger Fisk and Walter Radulski each singled.

The defensive play of the game occurred when Indian centerfielder Gary Bachinsky robbed Bill Lane making a great catch going straight toward the fence.

REALTOR

COSMETIC SURGERY

How much should an owner spend to get his property ready for sale? If it's a relatively small amount for improving appearance, fine — but think twice before investing large sums into making extensive improvements prior to putting your house up for sale.

The chances of getting the money back in a correspondingly higher sales price are remote. Depending on the nature of the improvements, the recovery historically runs from 10¢ to 50¢ on every dollar spent.

The exception to the rule is what we call "cosmetic treatment". If the property looks run down, then a paint and paper job once over lightly may be prudent. But it's a whole new ball game when you start with extensive repairs and remodeling.

The best solution is to discuss your situation with a local REALTOR. You may find that you can sell the house faster, with more profit and less inconvenience by dropping the price about the same amount you expected to spend on repairs.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Shannon Moves On Access Road Hurdles

Congressman James M. Shannon (D-Mass.) reports representatives from his District Office met recently in Boston with officials from the Federal Highway Administration and the Massachusetts Department of Public Works in an attempt to iron out some of the hurdles which have worked to delay the resolution of traffic problems in the Lowell Junction area of Interstate 93.

That area of the Interstate, near the intersection of the Andover, Tewksbury, and Wilmington lines has experienced rapid and severe growing pains due to the volume of industrial expansion there.

Down The Years

Road and from West Knoll Road on the south.

Selectman Robert A. Watters has forwarded a letter to the Boston Herald, objecting to editorial comment made by the paper relative to the Memorial Day incidents in Andover. The editorial noted the memorial Day problems at the Coffee Mill and suggested that President Nixon, if he wants peace and domestic tranquility, should visit Andover as a challenge.

Twenty-one Andover YMCA Outing Club Members participated in a canoe trip last weekend. Under trip director Larry Willwerth and interested fathers a flotilla of nine canoes were floated on the Sudbury River on Saturday morning.

Twin City Program Studied

Andover selectmen will be sending a note to officials of Andover, England, to see if the twin cities can carry on their township without joining a private club.

Selectmen heard a request for $150 to join the Twin Cities Program, but could not see how joining the organization would improve the town's already satisfactory relationship with Andover, England.

Until they hear from officials over there, selectmen here will not pay the $150.

Shannon said that in the meeting, Norman Van Ness, area director of the Federal Highway Administration, an arm of the Department of Transportation, and Justin Radlo, chief engineer for the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, both agreed that a need now existed for a full-blown corridor planning study to be prepared for the I-93 area from the Route 128 interchanges north to the New Hampshire border.

The municipalities affected by such a study would be the following: Methuen, Lawrence, Andover, North Reading, Wilmington, Reading, Woburn, and Stoneham.

Shannon said that this study would be "the first step in the detailed and tedious process which will eventually lead to the construction of a Lowell Junction interchange."

The planning study will be prepared either by an outside consultant, retained by the State, or by a cooperative effort of in-house staffers from the Massachusetts DPW engineering department and the area's regional planning commissions, Shannon said.

"Whichever method is chosen," Shannon added, "the study is regarded as necessary to the completion of an integral corridor, where the area's priorities are properly ordered, and I am happy to be a part of the process in accomplishing substantive progress on a project which was needed by the three towns years ago."

Pre-Inflation Prices Every Day . . .

You've heard the term bandied about . . . pre-inflation prices but have seen little evidence of them as fact. Come into the Towne Deli circle where pre-inflation prices are a daily practice.

A great example are our classic salads, Chef's or Greek. Piled high with crisp, fresh greens to which you may add slices of fresh ham and zesty cheese you then add our own croutons and choice of dressings . . . Ah! Add to this a glass of Chablis and you have achieved complete summertime appetite satisfaction. It's really a meal in itself.

Something more substantial? One of our corned beef sandwiches accompanied by a frosty mug of beer (our mugs are always refreshingly frosted). It's the way to wind up a tennis or golf session or to enjoy a respite from Summerday doldrums. The Towne Deli way.

Satisfy the inner person thus in our outdoor cafe or, if you prefer, in our clean, airy dining area which is always temperature controlled.

Yes, you eat superbly well here and at true pre-inflation prices not just today but every day.
